PLAYBOOK · COMPANION TO THE VIDEO

THE 3 PILLARS PLAYBOOK

Skill alone doesn't get you booked. These are the three things that do, and the exact actions to execute each one. Print it, fill it in, use it this week. You don't need to join anything for it to work.

CAPABILITY

Can you run an event start to finish? Freelance first to get reps and proof.

CAPACITY

How many events can you do before quality drops? Then price to match.

PROOF ENGINE

Can you send real proof of your work in 30 seconds?

1 CAPABILITY

Can you handle a job from start to finish?

BRAND-NEW DJS START HERE

A private event is more than playing music. Check off what you can do without help today. Every blank is your next rep.

- [ ] Talk to the client before the event
- [ ] Handle announcements and transitions
- [ ] Set up and break down on your own
- [ ] Show up on time and look professional
- [ ] Know the timeline and flow of the night
- [ ] Read the room: what's working, what's not
- [ ] Bring backup gear for every key piece
- [ ] Know what to do when something goes wrong

WHY FREELANCE FIRST

Don't rush out to land your own clients. Take a lot of events first as an assistant, protege or freelancer for a company or another DJ. Every event is a rep: you learn how real clients behave, how venues run and what goes wrong, and you get paid and build proof while you do it.

HOW TO LAND FREELANCE GIGS: 3 STEPS, IN THIS ORDER

STEP 1
TALK FIRST

Companies, bars, nightclubs and DJs who could use you. Message, call, or show up. No link, no mass email. Make a real connection.

STEP 2
OFFER HELP

Tell them you have something to show.

> "I'd love to show you some of what I do. If you ever need an opening DJ, an assistant DJ, or someone to handle events, I'm here."

SEND PROOF

If they say yes, send your proof library right then: photos, mixes, testimonials, crowd footage, all in one place.

2 CAPACITY

How many events before quality drops?

EVERYONE HAS A CEILING

This industry is hard on the body: long hours, late nights, a wrecked sleep schedule. Put a finite number on what you can handle, then work backwards from it.

1. My event ceiling
events per month before performance suffers

2. Yearly job count
reverse engineer it: multiply out

3. My income goal
what I want to make from that many events

4. When to say no
the number where I stop booking

KNOW YOUR COSTS, THEN PRICE ACCORDINGLY

FIXED COSTS

Insurance, software, subscriptions, gear payments

VARIABLE COSTS

Travel, assistance, gear for each event

Price for three different models. Each one has its own costs:

RENTAL
Gear only

FREELANCE
Working for somebody else

SERVICE PACKAGE
Your own service offering

Educational worksheet only. Your numbers are yours; talk to an accountant about taxes and what's right for your business.

3 THE PROOF ENGINE

Can you send valuable proof in 30 seconds?

RELATIONSHIPS + PRESENTATION

SOMEONE SAYS, "I'M LOOKING FOR A DJ."

Can you instantly send a branded email, a branded EPK, a video of you performing and photos from real events? If you can't say what you do and prove it, you won't get the work.

PICK HOW YOU'LL SEND IT

PDF
Easy to email or text

WEB PAGE
One link that opens on any phone

QR BUSINESS CARD
Proof in their hand when you meet

A clean PDF, a simple page and a folder of your best clips are all free to build yourself. The talking to people part is on you, and it's what gets you booked.

BUILD YOUR PROOF LIBRARY

WHAT GOES IN IT

- [ ] Video testimonials
  30 seconds, selfie style, from the client or host. "What did you love about the night?" Keep it real, not staged.
- [ ] Crowd reaction footage
  Film the room from the booth. Ask permission, and tag or collaborate with whoever you're working for.
- [ ] Photos from real events
  Have a friend shoot you mid-performance with the dance floor behind you, plus wide shots that show a full room.
- [ ] Recorded full sets
  Use a basic audio recorder or interface. Long mixes let you cut highlights anytime and prove you can hold a room for hours.

Only two things first? Testimonials and crowd footage. They prove you can handle a room, not just mix.

POST A WEEKLY MUSIC TASTE VIDEO

Clients don't hire you for blending two songs. They hire you because they trust your taste and your crowd reading. Phone, good lighting, 30 to 60 seconds, vertical. Pick one a week and tick it off:

1. The 5 tracks I'm opening wedding cocktail hours with now ☐
2. 3 songs that fill a wedding dance floor by 9 p.m. ☐
3. 5 tracks working in nightclubs this month ☐
4. The one song that clears the floor, and what to play instead ☐
5. Best throwback moments for a mixed-age crowd ☐
6. 3 overplayed crowd pleasers and fresher alternatives ☐
7. Best tracks to close a bar or a bat mitzvah party ☐
8. 5 songs for a corporate event that won't offend anyone ☐
9. A new release I'm adding to my crate this week, and why ☐
10. My go-to song for resetting energy when a room goes flat ☐

Don't post once and disappear. Consistency turns a stranger into someone who trusts you. When they need a DJ, you're the name they already know.

HOW THE 3 PILLARS CONNECT

MISS PILLAR 3
Great events, but no proof? You stay invisible.

MISS PILLAR 1
Great proof, but can't handle the job? You lose clients and your reputation.

MISS PILLAR 2
Booked solid, but no capacity plan? You burn out.

WHICH PILLAR IS YOUR WEAKEST?
